THE JOURNEY

The 1st Competition Year for UMSM was an overall success! Now that it’s all over, let’s reflect back on the journey to the completion of our very first car in the collage below - Pictures are worth a thousand words....
RESULTS

In our first try ever, the UMSM team was able to accomplish many of our goals and gain invaluable learning experiences. Despite some difficulties that were faced at the competition, the team maintained a calm composure uncommon to inexperienced teams. They were also able to pass tech inspection, get the engine to run, and ultimately place 2nd in design and 11th overall!

Although grateful for the experience, the team has come back with tons of feedback, from operations to engineering design, and are hungry to correct their mistakes in hopes of winning the next competition.

THANKS!

The University of Michigan Supermileage Team would sincerely like to thank each and every one of our sponsors, fans, and family for their unwavering support, faith, and guidance.

With a full year of experience under their belts, the 2012 - 2013 team will enter the upcoming year continuing to pursue the 3300 miles/gallon mark with newfound motivation and are ready to take on the Shell Ecomarathon head on!
